*The College changed its organizational structure to consist of "schools" rather than academic "divisions" in January 2008. Until then, the College was divided into eight divisions: Business Administration, Education, Humanities, Natural Sciences & Math, Nursing, Social Sciences, Social Work, and Technical. With the reorganization, the College was divided into the following seven Schools: Business Administration, Education, Liberal Arts, Nursing, Sciences & Math, Social Work, and Technology. Six departments (Social Sciences, Humanities, Natural Science, Math, Health Occupation, and Technical Studies) have been organized under the umbrella of schools.

* A few small class sections (READ 0090, RGTE 0199, RGTR 0198, ENGL 0090, and ENGL 0950) make the average class size for the typical Humanities Department class seem lower than it is. During Spring Semester 2006, only 3 students were enrolled in ENGL 0090.
