Workforce Innovations Opportunities Act

Questions regarding students receiving financial assistance through the Workforce Innovations Opportunities Act should be directed to 706-295-6840.

Academic Dishonesty

Cheating and plagiarism are a part of the Dalton State Code of Student Conduct, which can be found in its most updated form at http://daltoncampuslife.com/student-conduct/. ANY assistance provided or given in any way toward work in a class constitutes cheating. Additionally, any use of the ideas or words of others should be noted, or this will constitute plagiarism. For more details on what Dalton State considers to be Academic Dishonesty, please review the Code of Student Conduct. Instructors will assign grades based on classroom performance. Additional sanctions may be provided as a learning experience from the Student Conduct process.

Assignments and homework and other work for this class must be your own -- prepared exclusively for this class and not used for any other, prior class, either in its entirety or as a partial project. In addition, materials discussed in previous offerings of this course, such as case or class notes, exercises, exams, projects, and written case analysis, is explicitly off-limits to all class participants. Students found cheating on an assignment will, at a minimum, receive a zero on the assignment and may be dropped from the course and receive an “F.”

Plagiarism is using others’ ideas and words without clearly acknowledging the source of that information. Students who fail to properly give credit for information contained in their work (papers, presentations, exams, etc.) are violating the intellectual property rights of the original author. These violations are taken seriously in higher education. Cheating and plagiarism are violations of the DSC honor code and will result in an "F" for the course. For proper citation of the original authors, students should reference the library guide (see: http://libguides.daltonstate.edu/plagiarism for complete instructions.

Classroom Behavior

Dalton State is committed to respect via the Roadrunner Respect pledge. To learn more, please visit http://daltoncampuslife.com/roadrunner-respect/. “I pledge to show my fellow Roadrunner students, faculty, staff, and administration respect by treating others the way they want to be treated and by thinking about others first before making decisions that might affect them.”

Please attend class on time and be prepared with your assignments. Please be considerate of your fellow students and act in a professional, business-like manner. Respect the ideas and viewpoints of others that may differ from your own. Allow others to finish their thoughts and ideas and do not interrupt. Students are expected to conduct themselves on campus and in class so others are not distracted from the pursuit of learning. Discourteous conduct may result in a student being asked to leave the classroom. Persistent misconduct on the part of a student may be subject to disciplinary action.

Some examples of classroom misconduct that will not be tolerated include, but are not limited to the following:

- Disorderly conduct
- Harassment
- Verbal abuse
- Assault
- Interference with the educational opportunity of other students
- Attending class under the influence of alcohol or other drugs
Sex Discrimination, Harassment, & Assault
Sexual harassment is unwelcome, gender-based verbal or physical conduct that is sufficiently severe, persistent or pervasive that it has the effect of interfering with, denying or limiting someone’s ability to participate in or benefit from the college’s educational program and/or activities, and is based on power differential (quid pro quo), the creation of a hostile environment, or retaliation.

Sexual misconduct is a form of sexual harassment prohibited by Title IX. Sexual misconduct refers to “physical sexual acts perpetrated against a person’s will or where a person is incapable of giving consent due to the victim’s use of drugs or alcohol. An individual also may be unable to give consent due to an intellectual or other disability.” Sexual misconduct includes dating violence, domestic violence, rape, sexual assault, sexual battery, stalking, and sexual coercion.

Title IX Information
4.1.7 Student Sexual Misconduct Policy
(Last Modified on August 9, 2017)

In accordance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (“Title IX”), the University System of Georgia (USG) does not discriminate on the basis of sex in any of its education programs or activities or in employment. The USG is committed to ensuring a safe learning and working environment for all members of the USG community. To that end, this Policy prohibits sexual misconduct, as defined herein.

In order to reduce incidents of sexual misconduct, USG institutions are required to provide prevention tools and to conduct ongoing awareness and prevention programming and training for the campus community. Such programs will promote positive and healthy behaviors and educate the campus community on consent, sexual assault, alcohol use, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, bystander intervention, and reporting.

When sexual misconduct does occur, all members of the USG community are strongly encouraged to report it promptly through the procedures outlined in this Policy. The purpose of this Policy is to ensure uniformity throughout the USG in reporting and addressing sexual misconduct.
