

GARNISHMENT OF WAGES

The institution considers the acceptance and settlement of just and honest debts to be a mark of personal responsibility. When the institution receives a garnishment subpoena, the named employee will be consulted and requested to clear the matter. If there are repeated instances of payment default after counseling, the institution may consider that to be sufficient grounds to terminate the employee.